

Social responsibility is an integral part of who we are at Moalem Weitemeyer Bentsen, as a firm and as individuals. We strongly believe that all people are created equal and that the fundamental freedom rights are universal.

These are values ingrained in the Moalem Weitemeyer Bentsen DNA, and we actively support organizations committed to combating extremist actions and safeguarding the rights and freedom of all people, locally and globally, including Denmark's first think tank Justitia and the American Jewish Committee.

Helping children and youth is particularly close to our hearts, and throughout the years we have financially supported schools, academic events and achievements, sports clubs, charitable organizations and young artists across Denmark, including Børnenes Kontor, and several of our lawyers volunteer their time at legal aid offices and on other pro bono projects.

In 2019, we entered into a partnership with Copenhagen Pride, offering our time and legal advice in the preparations ahead of hosting the World Pride & EuroGames in 2021. We also participated in a major art happening at Børsen focused on gender equality through modern art.

In 2020 and beyond, we will continue to strive to uphold these values, to promote equality and to help enable our youth in pursuing their dreams and life goals.
